

First Year Seminars

at UC Davis

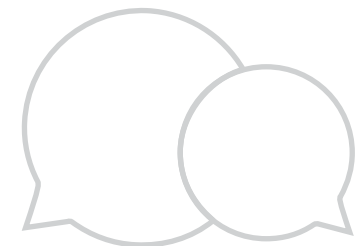

What is a First Year Seminar?

First year seminars are courses open to first year students (with 45 units or less).

Courses can range from 1- 2 units either pass/no-pass or letter graded.

Each seminar has a 19 student limit to allow for small group discussions and the ability to work closely with your professor.

The Benefits to First Year Seminars

Utilize this excellent opportunity to meet new people and form connections

Introduce yourself to new topics without having a large course load

Gain hands on experience in various labs and outdoor experiments

There's Life After Cheddar

Food and Culinary Sciences

You cheddar believe it!

Did you know that cheese was never meant to be made or consumed by humans? In case you're still in disbelief, yes, this class is all about cheese!

NOTE: THIS PAGE WILL BE A SLIDE SHOW OF THE
DIFFERENT SEMINARS

Zombies

Sports and Entertainment

Description

NOTE: THIS PAGE WILL BE A SLIDE SHOW OF THE
DIFFERENT SEMINARS

Ethics, Morality, and Breaking Bad

Lifestyle, Culture, Religion, Ethics

Description

PROFESSOR SPOTLIGHT

This seminar is taught by Amy Block Joy who teaches seminars in universities across the country and is passionate about scientific integrity and ethics.

NOTE: THIS PAGE WILL BE A SLIDE SHOW OF THE DIFFERENT SEMINARS

There's No Better Time Than Now

There are over 200 first year seminars to choose from and new seminars are offered every quarter!

Find a specific course via UC
Davis's course listing &
FAQs

GO!

Register via Sisweb with the course CRN number

SISWEB

NAVIGATE

About
Benefits
Featured Seminars
Resources

UC DAVIS LINKS

First Year Seminar FAQs
Sisweb

DES 157

Back to Portal
Valid HTML5
Valid CSS

Don't forget to smile!